CHARLOTTE MOSS
for
CENTURY®

Creating this collection for Century Furniture was one of those opportunities to sit back, close my eyes and imagine how we live NOW.

Today we communicate differently, we entertain differently, we even think differently about how we use our space than we did just a few years ago. So you may notice some unexpected details in this collection, and I hope you do....

I have spent more than twenty years decorating homes for private clients, answering their questions, addressing their concerns, solving their problems, creating dreams, and finding ways to make every space work, regardless of the challenges.

No matter the project, it always seems to come down to the same basic elements – livability, practicality and, of course, we want it to look good.

The great thing about furniture is that it can be moved! You can play with a floor plan, try different alternatives, and even have two or three plans for a room using the same pieces. Flexibility in decorating keeps it fresh – and always evolving.

Working with century and their stellar team we have made a collection that is luxurious, welcoming and hospitable.

It's a collection for how we live today.

“I believe in the romantic possibilities in decoration, in gardening, in entertaining. I am romantic, and I make no apologies for that. Every last detail fascinates me.”
